

The Centreville Day Citizen of the Year Awards

The Centreville Day Citizen of the Year Awards recognize and spotlights outstanding volunteers and leaders in the Centreville area community (this includes areas with Chantilly and Clifton zip codes). The award recognizes contributions in the areas of innovation, motivation, community building, ethical integrity and strategic leadership among community volunteers, businesses, and nonprofit organizations. Up to three people/organizations will be selected as 2011 awardees.

This award is administered by the Centreville Day Planning Committee.

Eligibility Guidelines

The Centreville Day Citizen of the Year Awards recognize any individual (or team of individuals), business, or nonprofit organization serving the greater Centreville area who has made an outstanding contribution in 2011 or for consistent service over more than one year. The recipient or a representative must be present on the morning of Saturday, October 22, 2011 to receive the award.

The Award

Up to three people/organizations will be selected as the Centreville Day Citizen of the Year for 2011. Additional nominees may be selected as honorable mention recipients. Each recipient will be honored in the Centreville Day program with a brief description of their accomplishments and will receive a certificate of recognition from Supervisor Frey on Centreville Day (October 22, 2011) during the opening ceremonies on stage. A press release will also be issued.

Nominations

It is the Centreville Day Planning Committee will select award recipients from among those individuals, businesses and nonprofits nominated by any resident of the greater Centreville area or by any member of the Centreville Day Planning Committee. Nominators are free to make nominations in more than one category, or multiple nominations within a category.

Nominations can be made with or without the candidate's knowledge.

Self-nominations will not be accepted but a nominator is welcome to consult and collaborate with the nominee to provide more accurate information.

Nominations are due by midnight October 16, 2011.

E-Mailed Applications can be sent to ccf@centrevilleva.org.

Mailed applications can be sent to Centreville Day at PO Box 1573, Centreville VA 20122.
